CHURCH FAIR HUGE SUCCESS

Largest and Most Interesting Yet Held—Neat Sum Realized.

The Mid-Summer Fair held for the benefit of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf was a decided success in every sense of the word. On both nights, Saturday and Sunday, large crowds attended and the spirit of the crowd indicated that everyone was having an enjoyable time. The booths were well decorated and the managers of these booths handled everything in a most business-like manner. The efficiency of the workers and the good humor of the entire crowd helped in a large way to make the fair a success. Refreshments of all types were served on the grounds, and many patrons dispensed with supper at home to enjoy their lunch on the lawn.

Much of the honor should go to Mrs. E. F. Fahey, chairlady, who has been working hard these weeks; but Mrs. Fahey modestly attributes the success of the fair to the excellent cooperation of the booth managers and their able assistants.

People have long recognized the talents of Henry Larose and Mr. Martin Blanchard, and for this reason the Country Store is one of the favorite spots. Mr. Buckley was the third member of this booth and his work was harder this year, since Mrs. Larose was absent due to the sickness of her brother.

Mr. Fred Fayard and the Boy Scouts, handled two concessions, the "Nigger Babies" and the Penny Game. The Boy Scouts are supposed to do a good turn each day, well we can say that they checked up enough good deeds to last a long time. The principal workers among the Scouts were Fred Fayard, Jr., Jos. Colson, Geo. Cuevas and Emile Piazza.

The home made candy was handled by Mrs. F. Lapeyer, chairlady, Miss Ida Edwards, Miss Elsie and H. Be-Spori, Miss Dot and Marjorie Killen and Miss Eleanor Riess. We might add that Miss Riess is very artistic, and the decorations of the booth reflected her good taste. The Sisters of St. Joseph made and sold candy before the date of the fair, and their efforts helped in a great measure to make this year a banner year for the candy booth.

Mrs. W. J. Curry, Miss Mae Steib, Mrs. F. J. Bopp, Miss A. C. Shannon, Miss Lottie Cuneo and Mrs. E. F. Fahey prepared and served the delicious chicken sandwiches, now a tradition of the church fair.

Brother Celsus was in charge of the refreshments. His able assistants were Mr. Sheridan, Rush Biossat, John Sangassan, and Arthur Fix. This table is always a favorite with the men as well as with the ladies.

Many enjoyed the Beano game which was conducted by Bro. David and Vivian Giannelloni.

One of the high spots of the fair was the Money Game, managed by Mr. Roger Heitzmann. He was aided by Bro. Roland, Sheridan, Elossat, Mr. Theo Tudury and Brysson.

A novelty in the form of a Comic Game, was conducted by Bro. Edmund and Bro. Alexis. This was extremely popular with the patrons, and the managers were kept busy the whole time.

The Novelty Table was conducted by Mrs. Kohler and Mrs. J. E. Waguespack. At this table many patrons won beautiful prizes.

Mr. Thos Smith, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize and Mrs. G. W. Stevenson conducted the cake table. An assortment of fine cakes were offered to the public. This table was one of the most successful at the fair.

For the benefit of the grown-ups and the children, Mrs. Claud Monti and Mrs. J. J. Grevenberg served Ice Cream. Their efforts were rewarded.

Young Peoples Week Observed At Main Street Methodist Church

Young Peoples' Week was observed at the Main Street Methodist church this past week. Sermon by the pastor Sunday morning, was especially directed to young people.

Friday night the Coast towns Epworth League Union meeting was held here at the church; there were 110 young people present, twelve leagues were represented. There were several reports made about our immediate camp which was recently held at Palmer Springs. Several from here attended this camp and several others are going to the junior camp next week.

Sunday night the League had charge of services at the church and had as their guest Miss Nell Allison who gave a most interesting and inspiring talk on "The Young Chinese Christian of Today," a subject which she was very capable of handling, since she was born and reared in China.

UNUSUAL FEATURES AT GULF THEATER TUESDAY & WED., 3-4

"The Charge of the Light Brigade" and Showing of Screen Test Pictures.

Showing next Tuesday and Wednesday of next week "The Charge of the Light Brigade" at the Gulf Theater in Waveland is anxiously awaited. This picture will be a first run showing for the Coast of this outstanding film.

"The Charge of the Light Brigade" stars that man of the hour, that hero of the motion screen, Errol Flynn, who is supported by the lovely star, Olivia de Havilland. Together these two give a story of hidden love and forbidden kisses that turned the tide of the world's greatest battles.

For some time the various companies of Hollywood had the thought of this picture in mind, but it was Warner Brothers that finally decided the picture could be filmed. During the filming of battery of twenty cameras were used; the greatest number ever used in filming a picture. In fact, that amount was used in filming the "charge" alone.

Included in this magnificent spectacle, are the beautiful recreations of the palaces of India, that land of exciting mystery, intrigue and adventure. Many times, no doubt, you have read of the amazing and interesting leopard hunts held by the rulers of that land; of the immense sums they spend for a single day's sport, and now at last the screen brings to you all the excitement and glamor of such a hunt.

Surely you will not want to miss seeing the uprising of the natives against the brigade stationed in an outpost; the fierce battle that rages, and of the outstanding manner in which Errol Flynn gives commands.

Plus this outstanding feature, we will show the recent screen test made on this stage at the Gulf Theater this week. Tuesday and Wednesday are the dates for these great attractions. Don't miss them.

THIRTIETH BIENNIAL REPORT

Compiled and Sent In By Dr. C. M. Shipp, M. D. County Health Officer

Following report covers a period of two years and is a matter of record, compiled by County Health Officer, Dr. C. M. Shipp, M. D., and takes in the time from July 1, 1935 to June 30, 1937.

Introduction

Hancock is located in the southwest corner of the State and is one of the coast counties bordering on the Gulf. In size it is twenty-five miles wide and thirty miles long and embraces about four hundred and seventy square miles. This area has been built up by accretions that followed the slow recession of the shore line. The topography in general is flat and through it pass bayous and slowly moving streams into the marsh lands. Formerly this vast area was a splendid forest of long leaf yellow pine but at present is classed as poor cut over pine land. In the marsh lands near the shore line mosquitoes did breed in abundance until the Public Works Administration proposed and executed a drainage project involving many miles of ditches. This has been a benefaction to our people. In this program the Board of Health took the responsibility of selecting the areas to be drained and secured land releases from three hundred property owners. The population of the county is about eleven thousand five hundred of which twenty five per cent are colored. The majority of these are of french descent. Many of them speaking the French language to the extent that it is necessary for some of the county officials to understand the language. About twenty five percent of the people live in the rural section along the main highways and belong to the labor class, and the remainder live in the coast line near the beach. The water off shore is shallow for miles and is called the "Mississippi Sound." These waters abound in fish and oysters which give an abundant supply of seafood. Two packing plants that process sea foods, give employment to several hundred laborers during the fishing season.

There are two Incorporated Towns in the County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Both are on the beach, are contiguous and have a combined population of five thousand. These two towns, with three other villages on the beach, are summer resorts in the summer months the population is increased about four thousand.

Not all the people that visit the Coast are in an excellent state of health, occasionally people that have been suffering from acute illness, especially children, come or are advised by their family physician to come to the Coast to rest and recuperate. In all such cases it is necessary to investigate the party to determine whether or not they are recovering from some acute infectious disease of childhood.

Organization

In 1917 the County accepted a cooperative project with the State Board of Health for the eradication of hookworm disease. This project lasted for one year. In this campaign most of the people living in the rural section of the county were (Continued on page 3)

ROTARIAN AL VOIGHT SPEAKER

"Rolling Homes and Rolling Stones" Subject—States Preparing For Trailer Tourists.

Rotarian Al Voight was guest-speaker at the regular weekly-lunch meeting of the Rotary Club at Hotel Reed Wednesday noon. His subject was "Rolling Homes and Rolling Stones." He brought out the fact that this new industry was increasing by leaps and bounds, production of trailers for the first quarter of this year surpassed that of the entire year of 1936. It is estimated that the total production for this year will exceed 60,000 units.

Mr. Voight stressed the fact, that even though this new industry was only in its infancy, it is already presenting quite a problem before the Federal, State, county and city government. This is substantiated by figures that show, there are 250,000 people today "traveling" and "living" in these "homes on wheels." Experts estimate that this number will be doubled by fall of this year. The rapid growth in the use of trailers creates need of new legislation in connection with education, sanitation, taxation, traffic regulations, etc.

The speakers outlined the preparation that has been made in the states of New York, California and Florida for the convenience of the "Trailer Tourists." These states are encouraging this type of travel, building trailer camps, equipped with all modern conveniences and facilities. For this reason they expect a lion's share of this new business. He went further to state that this sudden urge upon the American people to see the country from their rolling homes, brought into use old factories that had been abandoned by automobile manufacturers. The need for many new devices and small gadgets for the trailers, and the numerous purchases made by these travelers, was of untold value to general business recovery. He advanced the theory that the people had set minds and hearts on this new mode of "traveling and living" and regardless of future regulations in an effort to curb their use the trailer business will continue to prosper.

Rotarian Voight's discussion of this current problem was very interesting as well as informative.

Rotarian C. J. Gordon had as his guest for luncheon Mr. Sanders of New Orleans.

REMAIN AGHAST AND LIVE.

THE average citizen of Bay St. Louis, when stopping long enough to think about the matter, is literally aghast at the number of people killed every year in this country by motor vehicle accidents.

The same brother or sister, however, when behind the steering wheel of an automobile, is no longer aghast. In fact, there is no time to think, because for some reason it is very important to get wherever it is in a hurry. Occasionally, it happens that an accident occurs, another victim is added to those already dead and the injured passengers have time for a few weeks' reflection in the hospital. Here, once more, they are aghast.

If we could just figure out some method of making people aghast while they are driving automobiles there would be fewer victims and more safety on the highways.

ENDS YEAR OF SERVICE.

THE editor of The Gulfport Guide, Clayton Rand, steps down from the presidency of the National Editorial Association, completing a year which has carried him far afield but which will be recorded in Association history as one of signal accomplishment.

The Association is today debt-free after having liquidated in one year's time obligations that totaled $13,000. Through the efforts of Mr. Rand and the cooperation of his associates the prestige of the NEA has been raised to a new high.

Throwing himself into the national work with his characteristic enthusiasm, The Guide's editor has done a job of which his staff at home and his many friends in Gulfport and along the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast are proud.

Bright moon nights are fine for lovers—but ask any fisherman what he thinks of them!

ARE YOU BALANCED?

IT is fine for human beings to have good times, to enjoy themselves in proper ways and to appreciate a sense of humor as they travel along the road of life.

However, after all, this is not the purpose of existence. The individual should accept some responsibility, assume some obligations and have faith in something if life is to have a full meaning.

There is always the danger that the thinkers of the day will take things too seriously but this danger is no more real than the opposite, that the pleasure seekers fail to take things seriously enough.

The balance between them is what makes civilization worth having, but it does not seem possible for every individual to capture the pose that goes with such a balance.

The United States Employment Service placed 224,692 persons in jobs with private industry in June. Job-seekers registered with the employment offices numbered 5,016,014, the lowest number for any month since statistics have been kept.

HOW STANDS YOUR WORD?

IT is not intended that every citizen of Bay St. Louis shall be rich insofar as material wealth is concerned but it is possible for every one of us to be rich in character.

We know a man, not even well-to-do, but others say that his word is dependable, that if he says something you can depend upon it and that if he promises anything he will carry out his obligation.

This is high praise indeed. We would all be better off if we were more careful in making commitments and more earnest in performing our part of any mutual undertaking.

Even in little things the word of a man or a woman should be the only necessary guarantee of performance but so often we overlook little obligations because we do not think them important.

A very favorable feature of the charters coming in this year to the Secretary of State Department, especially state charters, is that a gratifying number of these are of an industrial nature, giving evidence that the program of balancing agriculture with industry in Mississippi is going steadily forward.

ONE SAVED OUT OF FOUR.

ONE year after the distribution of the soldiers' bonus, Treasury reports show that only twenty-three percent of the recipients have not yet cashed their bonus bonds.

Some might argue from this that those who received the bonds were spendthrift and improvident. This does not necessarily follow.

Many of the recipients of the bonds made use of the cash upon selling for permanent investments of value. Others had to sell them to pay debts accumulated during the depression.

Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, is again the scene of busy activities these days, with the encampments there of various divisions of the State National Guard. The engineering and quartermasters units were encamped there from July 4th to 18th. These units comprised about 700 or 800 men.

BOOMING MARKET UNDESIRABLE.

WHEN business in the United States hit the bottom, about four years ago, the need for stronger prices was apparent and various government moves were initiated, looking toward higher prices, or inflation of values.

Now that recovery is well underway, Wall Street is wondering why an upswing toward pronounced new heights is not apparent. The market has gone downward since early Spring, when a long sustained advance came to an end. Indications from Washington in April that the government was against a boom coincided with bearish developments and stopped the upward movement.

The average person in Hancock county may not be interested in advances and recessions but they are the stuff of which booms and depressions are made. As we understand it, the general opinion in the United States is that it would be far better to level off values at some mid-way point and try to keep them normal. This would give stability and solidity to values and prevent disaster that accompanies fluctuations that are too broad either way.

Observers are cognizant of factors that make against advancing prices just now, including the European situation, the gold worry, the labor situation and attempted government management of domestic prices to prevent abrupt increases in price. While the present year has not witnessed any substantial approach to boom conditions there is an underlying opinion that when present depressive factors are removed the markets will respond with an upward surge unless strong pressure from the government balances other factors.

Price levels, we believe, may be expected to show advances from present positions, due to advancing raw materials, higher operating costs in industry and increased taxes, but it is vital that the general economic balance should be spread among the various groups that make up our economic population so that trade may continue to grow through mutual prosperity.

SPEAKING OF—(AHEM!)—LEGS.

FOR a number of years the citizens of this republic have been leg conscious as stage, screen and bathing beauties have vied with each other for the privilege of establishing by patent display the right of owning the "most beautiful" legs of the land.

We have endured the competition with some fortitude, including the danger of lost eyesight from overstrain, and with the general conclusion that American females, so far as we could judge, had the right to stand on their own legs without hiding them from any competition.

Now comes our former ambassador to Germany, James W. Gerard, to begin to boast about the leg of the American male, as displayed in knee breeches at the British coronation. "The Americans showed a fine set of legs," he declared. "There wasn't a knocking knee or bandy-leg in the whole outfit."

This is a new field in the study of legology, so far as we are concerned, and we are not yet prepared to admit that the former ambassador has any just cause for jubilation inasmuch as he may have, by chance, come across a better-than-average set of male legs. While there may be something of beauty in the male leg we are inclined, for the present to pass them by; we have other matters to look after.

DEATH OF SENATOR ROBINSON.

THE sudden death of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the majority leader, has removed one of the most respected senators and astute parliamentarians from the national scene. And it marks a heavy blow to an administration faced with the first important senate revolt against its legislative plans.

The work of the majority leader is to line up Senators in support of White House measures. No leader ever worked harder at this, or did it more successfully, than Mr. Robinson. Few senators, it is felt, could do a difficult and often thankless job as well. The President's program will probably never again have as ardent or popular a champion in the Senate.

Mr. Robinson's death may likewise hasten adjournment. A combination of the intense Washington summer heat and the belief that the introduction of more major bills can only lead to prolonged, futile debate, is causing a growing sentiment on the part of Congressmen that the wise thing to do is to pass the necessary appropriation bills and go home.

"KNOW MISSISSIPPI BETTER TRAIN"

THE "Know Mississippi Better Train" with approximately two hundred enthusiastic Mississippians left Jackson Monday on its thirteenth annual good will tour, the trip this year being made into Mexico and through the Western portion of the United States. This Know Mississippi Better Train idea was first initiated in 1925 by the late Governor Whitfield and in the twelve years already made, 80,000 miles have been covered; carrying the messages of Mississippi to every State of the Union, except Florida, and in addition these trips have included three tours through Mexico and seven into Canada.

Former Governor Dennis Murphree is general chairman of the movement and with him, in the supervision of the tour, are Commissioner of Agriculture J. C. Holton, Chief Health Officer, Dr. Felix J. Underwood, Prof. W. F. Bond, of the State Board of Public Health.

The KMB train is expected to return to Jackson about August 2nd.

BACK TO TIMES.

THE records of corporations in the Secretary of State's Department indicate that we are getting back to the pace realized in pre-depression days along this line. For example back in 1928 and 1929, the record of the Secretary of State's department was about sixty and sixty-five charters, including both domestic and foreign, each month, and the records show that during the past month forty-seven domestic charters have been recorded and fourteen foreign corporations have qualified to do business in the state. This makes a total of sixty-one for the month, which is getting back to old times. The total authorized capital of these sixty-one corporations is $44,894,100.00.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

GOOD COOPERATION

(Biloxi News)

A MORE unified front which should bring about a greater stabilized condition in the shrimp and oyster fishing industry on the Mississippi Coast and those centers where the industry has its greatest source of supply should result in the addition, this week of the Bay St. Louis fishermen as a unit, to the Gulf Coast Shrimpers and Oystermen's Association. For a number of years the Gulf Coast body has been trying to enlist the Bay St. Louis group into its ranks for the mutual benefit of all concerned but without success.

However, it has taken several years of campaigning the Hancock fishermen have at last seen where they can benefit themselves and the industry and have asked that they be taken into the mother organization which was formed and has its headquarters at Biloxi.

The Gulf Coast Shrimpers and Oystermen's Association has done much to better conditions in the seafood industry in recent years. They as well as the packers have reaped rich rewards and a better marketing condition has been the result. For the past few years, because of the lack of co-operation on the part of the Bay St. Louis fishermen in upholding prices and policies, unstable conditions within the industry have arisen at various times which have been costly. The fishermen of that place not only lost but the industry in general was affected.

When there are uniform prices paid for the production of a commodity there can be no destruction of the market, statistics show us. Quality in production takes its place and an upward trend begins. There is a mutual benefit then received by the consumer, producer and fishermen. The organization now has an unbroken front and following its policies of the past food industry of this section to a few years, it will advance the seafood business to a higher plane than it ever has been before. It is gratifying to see the Bay St. Louis fishermen fall in line.

NO STING IN DEFEAT.

(Jackson Daily News)

SENATOR PAT HARRISON should not have any regrets over his defeat for the position of Senate floor leader.

The vote was:
Barkley, 38.
Harrison, 37.
Defeated by one vote.

Pat may not feel so at this moment, but the loss of that honor is just about the best thing that has happened to him throughout his long and eventful public career.

It was honor and responsibility that killed Joe Robinson. It is honor and responsibility that would have killed Pat Harrison before the close of the current session of Congress.

The people of Mississippi who gave Pat Harrison that magnificent majority last year, carrying every county in the commonwealth except two, want Pat to keep on living and being useful.

The burden he now bears as chairman of the Senate finance committee is quite enough for one man.

Home folks are still with you, Pat. They want you to keep in good health and spirits, be the good fighter you have always been, look carefully after their interests in Washington, and keep that genial smile on your face.

Home folks who truly love you, Pat, are vastly more important than double-crossing friends in the Senate.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

UNIVERSAL denies that the German Ambassador had anything to say about the closing scenes of "The Road Back." They are merely making some changes because they think the film will be improved.

After Henry Potter recently declined to continue directing "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," Norman Taurag was put in charge. The results are many new faces in the cast and the picture being done in Technicolor. Beulah Bondi has the role of Aunt Polly, which was originally assigned to Elizabeth Patterson. David Jack Hat will be Sid Sawyer and Jackie Moran will have the part of Huck Finn.

Another change in directors because of director-producer friction occurred in the making of "The Adventures of Marco Polo." After numerous clashes, the picture was started anew with plenty of cost to the studio. Gary Cooper has the title lead in this film.

Alexander Korda, English producer, is now engaged in a novel star hunt. Selecting several dozen young people from hundreds of applicants, he is making short films with them, passing out cards for the audiences to vote on the ones they like best.

The stage success "Tovarich" is being filmed under the title of "Tonight's Our Night," with Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer in the leading roles.

Hugh Herbert is to be a full star. The first picture in which he will be featured will be "Ssh, The Octopus."

"The Nutmeg Tree," a new novel by Margery Sharp, will serve as a film vehicle for Gladys George. It deals with problems of a mother and her debutante daughter.

Billy and Bobby Mauch are to be co-starred this season in "Penrod and His Twin Brother."

Allan Jones who has recently finished work in "The Firefly," will have the romantic lead opposite Hope Hampton in "The Ugly Duckling."

Grace Moore and her studio president are having a feud over "The St. Louis Blues." Miss Moore says that she was made to sing "Minnie the Moocher" in "When You're in Love," but she is drawing the line when it comes to the blues.

William Powell has been borrowed from his studio to play the lead in Annabella's first American film.

PAIR OF STANISLAUS BOYS HOLD REUNION UP IN CHICAGO

Zeke Bonura and Marchy Schwartz Recall Old Days At Local College.

By Warren Brown
Chicago, July 28.—A couple of boys from St. Stanislaus, down Bay St. Louis way in Ole Mississippi, had quite a reunion over the last weekend.

One of them "Zeke" Bonura, has been rather busy o' afternoons what with the Kankees and one thing or another.

The other, Marchy Schwartz, has been rather busy, too, pulling for "Zeke," his classmate through some grammar, prep school days and thru part of one college year.

Both, off their prep school days, were headed for Notre Dame. Both changed their minds and went to Loyola of New Orleans.

Marchy to Notre Dame
Marchy changed his mind again and went to Notre Dame, where he made football history. "Zeke" stayed put. But the friendship of these two has endured since they were kids together.

"I guess it's all right for me to say it now," Bonura told me that the other day at Comiskey Park. "I guess Coach Shaugnessy won't mind so much now."

"He was all-fired mad when he found out Marchy had left Loyola and gone on to Notre Dame. The coach was fixing to play Notre Dame the next year and he was counting on Marchy to do the stuff."

"I didn't blame Marchy. He was a great football player, one of the greatest of all time, I think, and Notre Dame was the place for him. We weren't going any place, much."

I asked "Zeke" why he happened to remain behind when his boyhood pal went on.

"Aw, I wasn't much interested in football," said Bonura. "Baseball was my game. I knew I was going to play that somewhere and I knew I wasn't going to stay in school any longer than I had to. All I wanted was maybe some business courses so I could be of some use to my dad later on."

"Zeke" told of the first time he

"Jean." He will have the part of a butler who becomes a political leader in Budapest.

The only songs that will be retained in the film version of "Irene" will be "Irene" and "Alice Blue Gown." John Boles will appear in the picture with Ginger Rogers.

Mary Boland keeps a two bed room in a Los Angeles hospital for picture folks who cannot afford to go to a hospital. She has been doing this for two years.

The dog catcher almost got Asta, "The Thin Man" dog, recently, while the little fellow was playing in front of his master's home. A little boy who knew him, got him first, however, and saved him from the wagon.

Elliott Nugent is directing a picture in which his father has a major role. He and his father have appeared together in pictures and the son has been directed by the father in plays.

Frances Farmer lost seven pounds while working on her latest picture.

Benny Baker smokes from fifteen to twenty cigars a day and still gets sick when he inhales.

Victor Moore has one of the rooms in his home papered with over 1,000 pictures of shows in which he has appeared during the past forty years.

A girl who closely resembled Carol Lombard was almost mobbed on a bus, recently, when the passengers clamored for her autograph.

and Schwartz came to Chicago in their prep school days. They were members of a basketball team then that was playing in the Loyola interscholastic tournament here.

"I'll never forget the first time we rode out to Loyola. You know where you can see Wrigley Field from the 'L'? Well, Marchy spotted it. It was the first big league park we had ever seen. It certainly looked swell."

"Marchy asked me how I'd like to be playing in there. I told him maybe I would, some day. Funny how things work out though, isn't it? Here I am clear across on the other side in another big league ball park. And whenever I do get into Wrigley field I'm going against the boys who belong there."

Schwartz Doing Well
Schwartz, now athletic director and football coach at Creighton, out Omaha way, is doing a fine job.

He is rated as the most promising of the younger set of Notre Dame coaches abroad in the land and he has more than made good on his own.

I asked him how he liked the coaching job.

"Swell," said Marchy. "It's the next best thing to playing football, and there has never been anything I liked better than that."

"You'll probably laugh when I tell you that the biggest kick I get out of the job is watching the development of raw youngsters that come to school. I don't mean developing in football alone. I mean the whole way. We're not losing enough games for me to be setting myself up as a 'character builder.' I know you'll laugh, but that's the big feature of coaching to me. We're coming along well out there, and I'm sold on the place and the job."

Schwartz said his principal difficulty was in getting attractive schedules. He wrote, he said, to several of the Western Conference members asking that Creighton be given a first-of-the-season game on the schedule, some time in the next five years.

"I got some interesting replies," said Marchy. "One director wrote me that his schedule was made up for more than the next five years. They're not all like Bob Zuppke. I'm keeping his letter. It was a gem. He said he would try and crowd us in as soon as he could and was very flattering in some of the things he had to say about me. 'But let's talk some more about "Zeke." Did he ever tell you about that tackle he made of the wind that afternoon Jack Elder went by him for a touchdown?"

Thirtieth Biennial Report Of County Health Officer

examined for hookworm disease and those found infected were given treatment. Quite a number of pit latrines were built in the county and the general sanitation of the homes improved. For the next five years the county health problems were handled by a part time Health Officer.

In 1923 the county officials again became interested in co-operative health work and accepted a plan offered by the State Board of Health, through the Shepherds Town Act. This project provided the services of a physician for three months and a nurse for one year. The purpose and objective of this plan was the examination of school children and the correction of physical defects when found.

In 1924 the county made an appropriation sufficient to employ a full time health officer and a nurse for three years but in 1927 this appropriation was reduced and since that time the county has maintained only a full time health officer.

In 1936 through the generosity of the Public Health Service, the county was furnished a full time nurse for one year but at present that service is discontinued.

Program
In a county where only a full time Health Officer is employed, it is imperative that some major health activity be selected and the whole plan of work be built around this selected objective. The school child was chosen as the most important health problem and made the object of our endeavors. Each year all the school children are given a physical examination and the parent or guardian is notified of the physical defects disclosed in these examinations.

For this biennium forty five hundred and forty four school children have been examined.

It is necessary to make frequent inspections of school children, if those suffering from colds, skin diseases or body vermin, are to be temporarily excluded. Then, too, this must be done to secure the correction of physical defects.

Thirty five hundred and twenty children were inspected during this biennium. In the summer months when the schools are not in session, some of the time is given to the examination of pre-school children and babies. The mother usually brings the child or baby to some designated place in the rural community for examination or advice. At these conferences four hundred and sixty three babies and pre-school children were examined. In connection with the home visiting by the nurse and through the school inspections, we were able to secure one hundred and sixty five operations for defective tonsils and adenoids.

In 1936 we became interested in a maternity program for the benefit of those cases that did not report to their family physician for periodical monthly examination. At present we are carrying on our maternity program thirty maternity, several of which get their examinations at the community meetings in the rural section. These cases that come to our conference would never obtain medical advice elsewhere.

One way to determine the success of a Public Health Service is to compare the infant death rate in former years with present. In Hancock County the infant mortality rate for the years 1925-1926 was 108.3, for the years 1935-1936 was 50.0, in other words it was cut in half. The death rate for all ages in 1925-1926 was 12.7 and for the years 1935-1936 was 9.9, this is a remarkable reduction in deaths.

Vaccinations
Finally we have reached the era or period in which we met no opposition in vaccinating for small pox, for this routine procedure is accepted by the parents of the children. All children attending school that cannot present a scar of successful vaccination, are vaccinated.

We do not vaccinate for small pox in the pre-school group. We invariably had trouble in vaccinating for small pox during the summer months but since we chose the cooler season of the year for this work, we have no trouble with ulcerated arms. In the last two years we have vaccinated seven hundred and thirty five children for small pox, which is well above our normal birth rate.

In attempting the control of diphtheria we do not vaccinate in the school group, if the child has reached the school age we leave this problem entirely with the family physician. Only pre-school children and preferably babies are accepted for immunization. In the past two years we have vaccinated five hundred and sixty three for diphtheria. The total number of children vaccinated in Hancock for diphtheria since the organization of the full time health unit, is four thousand and fifty three.

Typhoid fever at present is no problem in the county, we have not had a case in the last two years. In the rural section where the people use water from open top shallow wells, we advise vaccination against this disease. In the last two years we have vaccinated one thousand and twelve for typhoid.

Rabies has given us some concern and we have administered Pasteur Treatment to thirty seven patients.

Soil Pollution.
It may be said that we possess sufficient information for the control and complete eradication of hookworm, still this disease is of much importance in the county. At present hookworm infestation is not due to a lack of information or lack of education. It is due to the attitude of indifference produced by the disease itself. Four hundred and sixty four cases of hookworm have been treated. The Federal Government through the Relief Office instituted a sanitary project and was instrumental in having three hundred and seven toilets built in the county. In the incorporated towns no general sewerage system prevails.

They either depend on septic tanks, cess pools or pit latrines. Most of these homes are supplied with septic tanks or cess pools. No polluted water is permitted to empty into the beach unless it passes through a septic tank. For the last two years one hundred and ten septic tanks and cess pools have been built in the towns.

Office Activities.
In our office it is difficult to escape becoming involved in matters not wholly pertaining to public health.

The health officer is required to certify to the eligibility of all patients requiring charity wards. It is astonishing to note the number of patients making these requests. Many charity cases come to the office and are referred to one of the local physicians. All applicants for the CCC Camps, whether accepted or not, are examined by the health officer.

Our list of maternity cases that come to the office for periodic examination rarely falls below thirty per month.

In the office three clinics for the examination and x-ray of cases of suspected pulmonary tuberculosis were held and sixty two patients examined.

To us many patients are sent by local physicians for laboratory tests. All acute infectious diseases treated by the family physician are reported by telephone to the office immediately on being diagnosed.

In the office the equipment of the Red Cross is kept and we distribute sheets and layettes to O. B. Cases and furnish yeast to belligerents.

TRUST.
Prosecution of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies for violations of the anti-trust laws to lessen competition has been decided upon by the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice.

BOYER MEETS GIRL (JEAN ARTHUR) RESULT: "HISTORY"

Boyer meets girl in Paris moonlight and romantic history is made.

Which by way of announcing that you can look forward to seeing dark-eyed Charles Boyer and blonde Jean Arthur, filmdom's newest and most exciting love team, romancing in Walter Wanger's "History is Made At Night," which begins a two day engagement at the A. & G. Theater on Sunday and Monday.

This sparkling romance from the pens of Hollywood's madcap writing team, Gene Towne and Graham Baker, cast Boyer and Jean as Europe's most dashing head waiter and a gorgeous American mannequin who meet in Paris under very romantic circumstances and fall in love at first sight.

Stunning Background
The ensuing romance takes them across the Atlantic and back aboard a crack transatlantic luxury liner and moves against a background of lavish modern settings, including the smartest restaurants of New York and Paris, and winds up in a surprise climax that promises to be the talk of the town.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

THINK of the variety of ices and sherbets and if you are as hot as I am this minute, you'll be glad to be reminded of them. Keep on hand ingredients to make sherbet and serve it often during the summer months.

Orange Ice
2 cups water
1 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Grated rind of 1 orange
Make a syrup by boiling together the sugar and water for 10 minutes. Add fruit juice and grated rind of orange. Cool and freeze.

Grape Juice Ice
1 pint grape juice
1 cup sugar
1-3 cup orange juice
2 cups boiling water
4 tablespoons lemon juice
Make syrup of sugar and boiling water and boil 10 minutes. Cool and add fruit juice. Freeze.

Lemon Mint Ice
Bruise a good handful of fresh mint leaves—about as much as can be grasped in the hand—place in a bowl and pour over them 1 cup of boiling water. Let them steep while the other ingredients are being prepared. Hydrate 2 teaspoons of gelatin and let dissolve in ½ cup of hot water. Add the juice of 1 large orange and three lemons, 1 cup of sugar and the water from the mint leaves which should be squeezed as dry as possible. These quantities when frozen will yield about one quart of ice. A very little green coloring will greatly improve the tint.

Orange Sherbet
1½ cups orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3-4 cup sugar
2 egg whites
1-3 cup water
Grated rind of 1 orange
½ cup cream, whipped
Place the sugar and water in a saucepan and cook 10 minutes. Add the grated rind and cook 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat and strain, cool. Add the fruit juices and pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm and then remove from tray and beat until light. Add the beaten egg whites and the whipped cream. Freeze until firm.

Tropical Sherbet
Heat 1½ cups milk and soak 1 teaspoon gelatin in another 1-3 cup of milk. Beat 2 eggs with 3-4 cup of sugar and cook to custard with milk. Add soaked gelatin, 1 cup of thick stewed apricots sieved, and 2 egg whites beaten stiff. Canned apricots may be used but dried ones, stewed, give more flavor. Stir the mixture lightly to blend. Let stand in freezing unit 2 hours. Remove and add 1 ripe banana mashed well, 1-2 teaspoon of almond extract, 1-2 teaspoon of lemon juice and the grated rind of ½ orange. Beat very smooth with a rotary beater and return to freeze.

Lime Sherbet
Let 1 teaspoon of plain gelatin soak in 1½ tablespoons of water. Cook 2-3 cups of sugar in 1½ cups of water until the sugar is dissolved and pour over the gelatin; stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Allow to cool, add 4 drops of green coloring and the strained juice of five fresh limes (½ cup of juice). Pour into a freezing tray and allow to freeze. Stir every 20 minutes and when frozen to a mush fold in 2 egg whites beaten stiff and sweetened. Freeze until firm.

Pineapple Sherbet
Combine ½ cup unsweetened pineapple juice (canned), 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind and 2-3 cup of sugar. Chill. Pour this into 2 cups of chilled milk stirring constantly. (Never pour the milk into the fruit juice or it will curdle.) Freeze until hard in

"JUST MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME, NEIGHBOR"

● We're an old Southern family, the L & N. And it's just natural that we have real pride in our home. Guess that's why folks feel so at ease and comfortable traveling with us.

Somehow everything seems familiar—the comfortable seats, so much like your own favorite chairs back home—the breakfasts of Old Southern ham, hot biscuit, fresh golden-center eggs, steaming coffee—the dinners, tender juicy steaks, Southern fried chicken, and cornbread, Pompano or other seafoods fresh from the Gulf Coast—all become memories of haunting goodness.

And then, when that pleasant, yawny tiredness comes—crisp, clean sheets, soft plump pillows—and deep, dreamless, restful sleep.

These and more you'll find in your "Home Sweet Home on Rails"—a home completely air-conditioned (except locals)—a home safer than your own—a home that costs only 1¢ to 3¢ a mile to enjoy. May we have the pleasure of your company soon—the whole family? Any ticket agent will assist you.

● In 19 years, the L & N has carried nearly 200 million passengers and not a single passenger has lost his life in an L & N train accident. No wonder you feel completely at ease in your "Home Sweet Home on Rails!"

Orange Ice Cup
Place a large spoonful of orange ice in the bottom of a tall, slender glass, with fifth ginger ale and garnish with fresh mint leaves.

Grape Marshmallow Sherbet
20 marshmallows
¼ cup water
1½ cups grape juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons sugar
3 egg whites
Place the marshmallows in the top of a double boiler over boiling water. Add the water and 3-4 cup of the grape juice. Heat until the marshmallows are melted, stirring frequently. Remove from the fire, add the lemon juice and remaining grape juice, and 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Pour into the refrigerator tray and chill. Add the remaining 1 tablespoon of sugar to the beaten egg whites and combine with the chilled mixture, mixing thoroughly then freeze.

RESERVE.
The Navy Department is beginning to organize a naval reserve auxiliary to be composed of yacht owners all over the country. With their vessels, the owners would be called into service only in case of war and would not be required to undergo peace-time training. Because of the standards of various power-boat and yachting associations and the qualifications of those who belong to them, it is not believed that any peace-time service would be necessary.
